Judge says Army Corps liable for post-Harvey flooding damage
By Karen Zorowski
City Editor

Some Katy-area residents applied the Dec. 17 decision by a federal court judge that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is liable for post-Harvey flooding damage to their homes is a positive sign for many other flood victims.

Barrier Flood Prevention specialist Wendy Dunon said, “We are very happy that this decision came in a timely manner for those who experienced the flooding. We’re hoping that the outcome of this case will give further motivation for levels of government to implement flood mitigation solutions that will help the greater Houston area.”

The case, United States Ex. v. Barrier Flood Prevention, was formed in the summer of 2018 as an advocacy project for flood management solutions in the Barker reservoir watershed following 2017’s Hurricane Harvey. Canyon Gate resident Audrey Milton learned of the decision by Senior Judge Charles Lettre of the U.S. Court of Federal Claims about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 22.

“I was sitting at my desk and she said, “I got very emotional and cried about 10 minutes. For the first time since everything happened, it just felt like someone was going to be held responsible for the many choices that they made. It felt good to be justifi-.."
Wreaths

-from page A1

body come out to honer those who have served and that they realize who they’ve done the country.

Kyle Atkinson, with assistance of sons Case (3) and Kyler (10), salutes after placing a wreath on a grave, during the National Wreaths Across America ceremony at Magnolia Cemetery on Lea, La. In 2019, wreaths were placed across the nation by veterans and military families in honor of those who lost their lives while serving in the military, as part of the Wreaths Across America program.

Katie Atkinson, with assistance of sons Case (3) and Kyler (10), salutes after placing a wreath on a grave, during the National Wreaths Across America ceremony at Magnolia Cemetery on Lea, La. In 2019, wreaths were placed across the nation by veterans and military families in honor of those who lost their lives while serving in the military, as part of the Wreaths Across America program.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.

“Scouting is patriotism and teaching everybody that our love for our country, our veterans, and our service and making it really count,” said Megan, 22.